Dear Guest:

Please be advised that a HURRICANE WARNING is in effect for _____ (City/County/State) and there could be a MANDATORY EVACUATION ORDER, which includes the hotel. A hurricane warning means that a hurricane is possible for the area within a 24 hour time frame. In the event of a MANDATORY EVACUATION ORDER is issued by local authorities you must vacate the premises for your safety.

At this time (note date and time) the hotel has decided to remain open for business with limited services over the course of the storm. This storm will bring along strong wind conditions and extensive rainfall. It may result in power outages throughout the area. The hotel will determine what services we are able to continue to provide throughout the storm. We will continue hotel services for as long as possible.

The hotel does/does not have an emergency generator. For your safety we ask that you refrain from opening any windows in your guestroom and keeping window drapes shut, as well as going outside the building during the storm.

By choosing to remain on hotel property, you, on behalf of yourself and your family/dependents/additional guests in your room, agree to indemnify, waive, release, and forever discharge the hotel, its owners, operators, agents, and employees from any and all claims for damages, death, personal injury or property damage and litigation costs/attorneys' fees, arising from or contributed to, in whole or in part, by any act, omission, fault or mistake of the hotel resulting from remaining on site during a hurricane.

We will do our best to keep you posted on any changes or additional information regarding Hurricane _____. Local TV channels will broadcast regular updates. The National Hurricane Center (<http://www.nhc.noaa.gov>) is also providing advisories.

If you should have any further questions or need special assistance, please feel free to contact the Manager on Duty at the front desk.

Please sign this acknowledging the fact that you are aware of the Hurricane Warning and that there is a potential Mandatory Evacuation. If you refuse to sign this acknowledgement you must check out.
